2017 PALMARIS CHARDONNAY

This wine is produced from 100% Dijon clone Chardonnay grapes grown in the Winery's Flittertown Road Vineyard in the Outer Coastal Plain. The harvest occurred on September 14, 2017, at maturity consistent with reserve quality. The must was pressed, chilled, racked and fermented with a yeast isolated from the Suze-la-Rousse in the Cote du Rhone. Simultaneous malo-lactic fermentation was initiated. Sixty percent of the wine was transferred to Boswell Light Toast American Oak for 6 months, then remarried with its 40% the non-oak portion and bottled.

4 GENERATIONS OF TOMASELLO WINEMAKING

In 1933, days after the repeal of Prohibition, Frank Tomasello started Tomasello Winery with the revolutionary vision of creating wine to match Europe's best. His two sons, their two sons, and then their two sons have continued the tradition. The Tomasello family grows and harvests 68 acres of traditional vinifera vines and native grapes in South Jersey's designated Outer Coastal Plain AVA.

Our 2017 Outer Coastal Plain Chardonnay is presented under the name "Palmaris" Latin for "Prize-Worthy" a name we reserve for wines of substantial character and distinction made only in superior vintages. 2017 was a fine growing season with seasonable temperatures and rainfall. This wine is made from 100% Estate Grown Dijon Clone Chardonnay from the Winery's Flittertown Road Vineyard.

Harvest parameters: 21.7 brix, t/a 6.9 g/l as tartaric Harvest date: September 14, 2017

The must was pressed, chilled and then subsequently fermented with a yeast isolated from the Suze-la-Rousse in the Cote du Rhone in France. This strain is particularly suited to produce full bodied Chardonnays. Malo-lactic fermentation was simultaneously initiated and 40% of the wine was transferred to new Boswell American light toast oak for 6 months then married back to the remaining 60% which was finished in stainless steel.

We hope that you will enjoy this fine wine with an equally fine meal while in company of good friends.
